

The Herald and News

Entered at the Postoffice at Newberry, S. C., as 2nd class matter.
E. H. AULL, EDITOR.

Friday, June 12, 1914.

There have been good rains in nearly all sections of the county and every one feels better.

We heard a gentleman remark the other day that this was a time when we needed in this State a campaign of education. It is true and the candidates should endeavor to enlighten and uplift the people and refrain from personalities.

We do not see the reason in the new rules for letting teachers and preachers enroll without the necessary residence and prohibiting others from doing so. We have in mind now two men who have been recently transferred to other counties, before the books opened, and not long enough to acquire residence in the counties to which they have been transferred by the company for which they are working. In both cases they will not be entitled to vote because they will not have had the necessary residence in the county. They can neither vote in the county to which they have moved, because they will not have been there six months, nor can they vote in the county from which they were moved, because they left before the opening of the books of enrollment. If they happened to be a teacher or a preacher they could vote.

Some of our brethren and sistren of the press seem to take some delight in the fact that the editor of The Herald and News did not endorse entirely the speech of Gov. Blease at Whitmire some days ago. For the information of these and any others who may be interested we desire to say that the editor of this paper is not the slavish follower of any man nor is he the slavish opponent or hater of any man. We write what we think and try to think right as near as we can. We have on former occasions differed with Gov. Blease. For the further information of those who may be interested as to the position of this editor we will say that we have supported Gov. Blease in all of his political aspirations and expect to support him for the senate and we expect to see him elected but because we do support him for these positions it does not follow that we are called upon to endorse everything that he says or does. Nor that we should be a personal or political enemy of every one whom he dislikes. We hope this is clear.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, it has been the will of a most powerful and omniscient God to remove by death from our midst our friend and brother, W. H. Wendt, a consistent member of Lebanon church, and he is now reaping the reward of the righteous, therefore, be it resolved in a church conference held:

First, That on account of the death of Brother Wendt, Lebanon church has lost a member who, while in good health did faithful and good work in this church.

Second, That we cherish his good deeds and bow in humble submission to the Divine will.

Third, That our sympathies go out abundantly to the bereaved family.

Fourth, That these resolutions be put in the church conference record, a copy be sent to the bereaved family and be printed in the two county papers.

S. J. Cromer,
C. H. Alewine,
H. M. Sligh,
Committee.

New Teacher Elected.

At the meeting of the board of trustees of the city schools Wednesday the request of Miss Rosalyn Summer to be released from her position at Speers Street school was granted. Miss Bess Burton was elected principal to succeed Miss Summer. The position in the primary department is still vacant.

Miss Sadie Bowers, of Newberry, was elected to teach the sixth grade at Boundary Street, and Miss Kate Thompson, of Columbia, was elected to teach in the West End school.

Death of Infant.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Turner, of West End, died on Wednesday morning and was buried at Rosemont cemetery Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, service by the Rev. Gobe Smith.

INGENIOUS LIFE SAVER.

Curious Suit May Deprive Shipwreck of Terrors.

A very ingenious device has been invented by a German, Gustav Heinrich, which he declares will deprive shipwreck of all its terrors under all circumstances, says the Star Company Magazine.

Furnished with his device, a passenger might be thrown in mid-Atlantic and live in comfort for many days while waiting to be picked up.

The apparatus is made of watertight canvas. It has sleeves ending in gloves. There is a port hole in the head, which can be closed when the weather is rough. When the port hole is closed air enters through a tube above the head. No water can enter through this.

The man or woman using this device stands with his feet in a sort of bucket which forms the base. This bucket takes in a certain quantity of water which acts as ballast, and keeps the lifesaver and its occupant upright. Sufficient food and drink can be taken aboard to keep the passenger alive for a week or more.

The apparatus is provided with a revolved and signal lights, with which the shipwrecked passenger can signal for help by day or night. Attached to the apparatus are ropes by which two or three people can keep themselves afloat if they have not the good fortune to have live-saving outfits of their own. It is proposed that one suit of this kind should be provided for every person on a ship. At present, as has been proved by many terrible disasters, there are no adequate provisions for saving life in case of a sudden sinking of the ship through collision or any other cause.

The boats are not sufficient to carry all passengers, and it seems doubtful whether a sufficient number will ever be provided, although an unusually active movement for insuring safety at sea has been going on lately. In any case shipwrecked passengers may be thrown in the sea with such haste that there is no chance for them to get into the boats. In such accidents the boats may be sunk or made useless from many causes.

The life-saving suits at present provided are of comparatively little use in case of a shipwreck in mid-ocean.

ENROLLMENT COMMITTEES.

The committees on enrollment will, as far as practicable, observe township lines as the limit of their club districts. Exceptions to this general rule were made by the County Committee in favor of Little Mountain and Pomaria. There may be other places where township lines are not well defined, or where a strict observance of township lines will place an unnecessary burden upon members. Enrollment in such cases is in the discretion of the enrolling committee. The committee will endeavor to enroll every person eligible under Sec. 6 of the rules within their districts.

The enrollment books will be opened on Tuesday, June 9th, and closed Tuesday, July 28th. The enrolling committee for each club is herewith published. The committee is in charge of the book and application for information can be made to either member.
